

Jo and Kurl are brought together by letter writing, but we know that there are many other methods of communicating with friends! Let's change the method of correspondence to the way you correspond to friends today.

Select a letter exchange between Jo and Kurl and translate to today's world, using text, Snapchat, YouTube, Instagram or any other platform.

What did you gain with your updating and what was lost?

Brainstorm other novels in which letters play a crucial role (Clarissa, Bridget Jones' Diary)

Is this a legitimate way to tell a story?

How does the use of letter form help us to appreciate the characters?