Letter Writing: All Our Broken Pieces

Write a letter to either Kyler or Lennon as their younger self. You may choose to pick a time in the book to focus on. Examples include, when Lennon's medical records were displayed for the whole school to see, or when Kyler spoke up in English right before he and Lennon were paired together for their project, etc.

The letter you write can offer the characters' younger selves advice, compassion or forgiveness. It can also focus on something that they learned or it can offer the character advice on or about the experience.

Be honest, be thoughtful and be compassionate and tell the characters' younger self something that they would have wished someone had told them back then. Focusing on one or two issues may also help you to write the letter.

Feel free to use the following writing prompts in your letter:

- You're going to experience...
- Learn to...
- We are....
- Don't let...
