Everyone Makes Mistakes, Everyone Is Redeemable

Name: ____________________________

_The Field Guide to the North American_ explores Norris’ ability to reconcile with the friends that he lost from his selfish actions and words. Below, describe a moment in your life that you wish you had handled differently—e.g. a fight with a friend, the way you handled a tense situation etc.—and how you reconciled with the other person. Then, compare the way you handled your scenario with how Norris tries to redeem himself at the end of the novel. Share your story and self-reflection with a partner and have your partner say what they would have done in your story.

Write Down Your Story and Self-Reflection Below

__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________