The Unteachables: Return of the Coco Nerd

The students in Mr. Kermit's class decide to try to win their school science fair in order to save their teacher's job. Their project is to rebuild their teacher's old car, which is nicknamed the Coco Nerd. Their design includes all sorts of bells and whistles, including chrome, LED lights, glitter paint, and an engine you can barely see over. In the space below, describe your dream car, then draw a picture of your creation on the back of this page.
