

Name: _____

The Boy Who Woke The Sun - Art Activity

The images of the orbs floating in space falling towards the ground is magical. To add to that image the orbs then disappeared once they hit the ground leaving behind their contents. In the space below and on the back of this page, draw a picture of what you think this looks like. Use any materials you like - paint, pencils, crayons, pastels or pencils.