

Definition

- “Natural sources of electricity that come from nature and can be replenished again and again, like wind and solar power.” (Glossary, p.81)

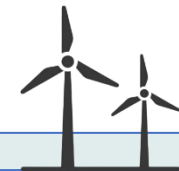

Characteristics

- Harnessed from nature
- Does not get used up
- Less environmentally damaging than other sources

Renewable Energy

- Wind power
- Solar power
- Hydro power

- Oil
- Gas
- Coal

Examples

Non-examples