

Name: _____

If You See a Bluebird

Home

Ali learns home is not a place. Home is the love his family has for one another. Think about your home. Draw a picture of the people in your family that make your home a special place. Write about what you love about your family.

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for drawing a picture of the people in the student's family.
