

Red Maple Activity: Reading Response

Today I Am: 10 Stories of Belonging edited by Jael Richardson

Name: _____

“That was the great thing about inventing; you could create something new out of nothing and fix a problem with it” (Today I Am p. 69). In Where the Mulberries Grow by Liselle Sambury, Sal is an inventor, trying to solve the problem of staying on Mulberry. What problem would you try to solve? What would you invent and how would you create your invention? Write a short creative writing passage about what you think it would be like.