“When the Stars Came Home” Class Collage

Fill the star with pictures of memories, people, places, or objects that are important to you! Cut out your star when you are finished.

Teacher's Notes

Because of the cultural importance of a Star Blanket, it is not recommended to create one as a class art activity. Instead, in this activity, students will artistically fill a paper star with images that represent stories, people, places, items, etc. that are important to them, and these stars can be connected or assembled as a mosaic or collage display celebrating the experiences of students in the room.
